

ANNOUNCEMENT OF JOHN D. CARROLL

Candidate for Democratic Nomination for Governor.

Because of that most excellent law which limits a candidate for Governor to $10,000, or about $24 to the county, to promote his candidacy, it has been necessary to print my complete announcement in pamphlet form, and it will be distributed throughout the State. It contains a full statement of my views on public questions, and I would like to see a copy in the hands of every Democratic voter. In this brief space, I have attempted to summarize the more important subjects touched on in that pamphlet, which will be sent to anyone requesting it.

Liquor Question.
I will vote for and support the Amendment to the Constitution to prohibit the manufacture, sale and transportation of spirituous, vinous, malt and other intoxicating liquors. If elected, I will honestly and earnestly use all legitimate efforts to make effective by legislation the latter as well as the spirit of this amendment.

JOHN D. CARROLL, New Castle.

Woman Suffrage.
Should the proposed Amendment to the Constitution be adopted by Congress, I will favor ratification by the Kentucky Legislature. If this amendment does not pass Congress, I favor submitting an amendment to the Constitution of Kentucky conferring suffrage upon women, and will vote for it.

Education.
I have always been, and am now, devotedly attached to the Common School System. I am heartily in favor of making ample provision to secure for every child in the State an opportunity to obtain at least a good common school education. Furthermore, every effort ought to be directed to the enforcement of the compulsory school law so that every child within school years may be required to attend some school.

Public Roads.
I favor thorough co-ordination between State and county effort in road work so that good results may be obtained from the expenditure of State funds.

Agriculture.
As the chief wealth of our State is found in its agriculture, I favor putting the State Agricultural Department on such a financial basis as will enable it to render to the farmers of the State the most efficient and practical service.

New Tax Law.
The principle of classification of property and imposition of a different rate of taxation should not, in my judgment, be changed until a fair trial has demonstrated its injustice. Such inequalities as may be in the present law should be cured by proper legislation.

State Debt.
The State debt should not be permitted to grow larger, and I would veto all appropriations in excess of revenue and try to arrange the affairs of the State so the present indebtedness may be retired without increasing taxes.

Law.
Being a friend of labor and sympathizing with every legitimate effort to better living conditions, I favor such legislation as will promote the comfort and prosperity of the wage earner.

Law and Order.
Confident that the supremacy of law and preservation of order are indispensable to our peace and happiness, I am and always have been a strong advocate of speedy and vigorous enforcement of law. I abhor mob law and am gratified that there will be submitted to the voters at the November election an amendment to the Constitution providing for the removal of any Peace Officer for neglect of duty. I will vote for this amendment and if elected will urge the Legislature to enact suitable laws for its enforcement.

Pardons.
I think the power to pardon should be sparingly exercised and pardon granted only when the ends of justice demand it.

Nonpartisan Judiciary.
The integrity and freedom from partisan bias of the judiciary of the State is a matter for congratulation of every citizen. I believe, however, that the judiciary should be nonpartisan to the end there may not even be a suspicion that their judgment was warped by partisan feeling.

Nonpartisan Institutions.
Our public institutions should be honestly and absolutely divorced from partisan politics. Faithful and competent men should not be removed for partisan purposes or political reasons.

Fair Elections—Corrupt Practice Act.
Our Corrupt Practice Act is a long and fine step toward preventing bribery because it limits the sum that a candidate may spend. The provisions of this act I believe to be as well as spirit, although so doing will necessarily deprive me of the benefit of much legitimate letter writing and helpful advertising.

Independent Vote.
If the Democratic party desires to win it must nominate candidates who can secure the independent vote. The Democrats should nominate that man, whether it be myself or another, who can poll the largest vote in the November election.

Business Administration.
Believing that the State may be likened to a big business corporation, I shall favor its business being conducted as nearly as possible in the same economical and efficient manner as the affairs of a large and well-managed business concern. I will devote all my time and attention to looking after State business, having no other ambition than that of being known as a business Governor, and during the term shall not be a candidate.

Where Candidate Lives.
The section of the State that candidates come from is not material. Stanley, from Western Kentucky, received in the State 4,135 more votes than Black, from Eastern Kentucky, and in two of the thirty-one mountain counties the vote was a tie between them. In twenty-two of the other twenty-nine Stanley got a majority over Black.

Soldiers' Monument.
To perpetuate the heroic deeds of our soldiers who gave their lives for the honor and safety of their State and Nation and are now sleeping in foreign lands, I advocate the erection of a noble monument that will be enduring evidence of the grateful remembrance we who are living hold the names and memory of those who have died.

Conclusion.
In this brief statement, I have set forth the principles I believe in, and shall advocate, and in the primary election I respectfully ask the support of those Democrats who endorse my position and who believe, if nominated and elected, I will honestly endeavor to put them into effective form.

JOHN D. CARROLL.

Completions

District 6—Lewis, Morgan county. Iron City Oil Company, No. 1, Susan Lykins farm, 5 barrels.

District 16—Torrent, Wolfe county. Bush Farm Oil Co., No. 4, J. Bush, dry; Southern Oil Co., No. 6, E. Williams, 30 barrels.

On the J. J. Wells property the Associated Producers are now at work at No. 19. But a small portion of this lease is affected by the decision handed down recently by Judge Cochran in the Federal Court in favor of the Morse heirs. The same parties who are operating on the Anna Fisher have producing wells in now and are pumping one. They have two rigs at work there.

News from Breathitt county is to the effect that the Big Bird Oil Co. is still drilling on its No. 1 well which is now thought to have been a pocket of sand. Further developments may come to hand, however, and the progress of the drilling is being watched with interest.

In Lee county on the Eureka lease, the Southwestern Petroleum Co. has four rigs at work. This is No. 2 tract. They completed Nos. 23 and 26 last week which are rated as splendid producers but have not been pumped.

Two large oil wells are being drilled in Magoffin county, according to information given out Thursday. It is said that county is going to give a good account of itself after the weather settles. It is also claimed the trend of the oil seems to be going into the West Virginia fields.

It is officially announced by the Day Oil Company that it will pay a ten per cent dividend to its stockholders on January 20th.

New wells reported were: No. 2 H. S. Neely Oil Company, C. C. Hicks farm, Allen county, 10 barrels.

No. 2, State Line Oil Co., Martin farm, Allen county, 25 barrels.

No. 1, N. B. Falkenberg, One Day Oil Co., Ralph Van Hart farm, Lee county, 25 barrels.

No. 13, Hudson Collins Oil Co. Fred Stone farm, Lee county, 100 barrels.

DIED IN NICHOLASVILLE

Mrs. C. C. Price died Friday at her home in Nicholasville of influenza pneumonia, aged 42 years. She was a daughter of Mr. Leroy Hise, formerly of this county, also a niece of Mrs. Robert Covington and Messrs. John and Willis Hise. She is survived by her husband and six children. Numerous relatives and friends here will greatly regret her death. The remains were interred in Maple Grove cemetery, Nicholasville, the funeral being conducted by Dr. J. W. Porter, of Lexington.

Popular Girl Dies

At College Hill

One of the saddest deaths we have had to report for many days, is that of Miss Katherine Tribble, who died at her home near College Hill Tuesday, after a brief illness of influenza pneumonia. She was in her 17th year just budding into beautiful young womanhood, had just entered her junior year at Waco High School when death's summons came. Never could it be more truly said that death loves a shining mark than in this instance. Her popularity among her schoolmates and friends was attested to by the silent grief of her associates, who attended the funeral. Deceased is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tribble and six brothers and sisters, to whom the loving sympathy of the community is extended in this dark hour.

"WHEN DO WE EAT?"

With the attractive title, "When Do We Eat?" and a role said to be appealing in the last degree, Enid Bennett seems destined to add to her large and ever-increasing following with her next Paramount picture that comes here Monday. It is a story of a disastrous experience of a traveling Uncle Tom show, which strands and leaves Little Eva high and dry. She has a number of exciting experiences, starts a real romance and wine out by her intelligence and resourcefulness.

WILSON WINS, AFTER ALL

Washington, Jan. 11.—Democratic members of the House Rules Committee today reversed the Committee's previous action and ordered immediately consideration of a bill appropriating a hundred million dollars for European relief requested by President Wilson.

"OVER THE TOP,"

Sergeant Empey's Interesting Story of the War.

Wednesday and Sunday of each week were visiting days and were looked forward to by the men, because they meant parcels containing fruit, sweets or fags. When a patient had a regular visitor, he was generally kept well supplied with these delicacies. Great jealousy is shown among the men as to their visitors and many word wars ensue after the visitors leave.

When a man is sent to a convalescent home, he generally turns over his steady visitor to the man in the next bed.

Most visitors have autograph albums and bore Tommy to death by asking him to write the particulars of his wounding in same. Several Tommies try to duck this unpleasant job by telling the visitors that they cannot write, but this never phases the owner of the album; he or she, generally she, offers to write it for them and Tommy is stung into telling his experiences.

The questions asked Tommy by visitors would make a clever joke book to a military man.

Some kindly looking old lady will stop at your bed and in a sympathetic voice address you: "You poor boy, wounded by those terrible Germans. You must be suffering frightful pain. A bullet, did you say? Well, tell me, I have always wanted to know, did it hurt worse going in or coming out?"

Tommy generally replies that he did not stop to figure it out when he was hit.

One very nice-looking, overenthusiastic young thing, stopped at my bed and asked, "What wounded you in the face?"

In a polite but bored tone I answered, "A rifle bullet."

With a look of disdain she passed to the next bed, first ejaculating, "Oh! Only a bullet? I thought it was a shell." Why she should think a shell wound was more of a distinction beats me. I don't see a whole lot of difference myself.

The American Women's War hospital was a heaven for wounded men. They were allowed every privilege possible conducive with the rules and military discipline. The only fault was that the men's passes were restricted. To get a pass required an act of parliament. Tommy tried many tricks to get out, but the commandant, an old Boer war officer, was wise to them all, and it took a new and clever ruse to make him affix his signature to the coveted slip of paper.

As soon as it would get dark many a patient climbed over the wall and went "on his own," regardless of many signs staring him in the face. "Out of bounds for patients." Generally the nurses were looking the other way when one of these night raids started. I hope this information will get none of them into trouble, but I cannot resist the temptation to let the commandant know that occasionally we put it over on him.

One afternoon I received a note, through our underground channel, from my female visitor, asking me to attend a party at her house that night. I answered that she could expect me and to meet me at a certain place on the road well known by all patients, and some visitors, as "over the wall." I told her I would be on hand at seven-thirty.

PLEASANT HILL

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitlock, Misses Amy and Lillie Whitlock and Mr. Bob Whitlock spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Asbill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shearer have moved to Mr. William Monday's farm near Boonesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKinney spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wood at Red House Tuesday.

Miss Sallie Ross, of Brodhead spent the latter part of last week with Miss Sue Forbes.

Mr. A. T. McKinney is visiting his son, Starling, near Clay's Ferry.

Mr. Robert T. Asher and Mr. Lage Smith are both down with flu.

Mr. Roy Minter bought from John McKinney a nice young bull.

The farmers here are busy stripping their tobacco. Mr. Tom Whitlock and Mr. McKinney were the first to sell any of their last year's crop out of this section and they came from the market with fat pockets and smiling faces.

Miss Sue Forbes expects to leave early in February to spend the remainder of the winter with her brothers, John and Ben Forbes at Catlettburg and Greenup.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tate are out again after an attack of flu.

Mrs. Mylo Baxter received a letter from her husband who is with the American army in France and he says he is well and expects to eat his birthday dinner at home, which will be February 22d.
